MONDAY EVENING, JANUARY 12.

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN WORDS.-The different use of words in England and in this country are interesting. "Lumber," which with us is applied to sawed timber, means trash in England. When we say "boards," the Englishman says "deals." We take "baggage" on a journey, the Englishman only luggage. Our ladies are fond of "dry goods," their English sisters are equally devoted to "haberdashery." The American travels "in the cars;" the Englishman "by the rail." The former sends a letter of the care in the care. ter "by the mail," the latter "by the post. The one has a "bureau" in his bed chamber; the other only a "chest of drawers."

LIFE PROBLEMS - Every full grown adult person throws out by respiration about four and a half gallons of deleterious gas and watery vapor per hour; and the children of school age average each one about three gallons per hour. Suspended in this deleterious respired air and vapor, there is in 1.000 gallons three gallons of acad decomposing animal matter. In bed rooms other evaporation add to the mass.

Now, if one person throws out four and a half gallens of noisonous air every hour, how long will it take 1,000 persons to fill a church full, or fifty children to fill a school room full. - Sanitarian.

> Tom, Tom, the piper's son, Stole a pig and away he run; The pig was eat, and Tom was beat, But the pig his owner never met.

This is the history of the salary-grab. Mr. Senator Flanagan, of Texas, shook his backpay greenbacks in the Senate the other day, and said they couldn't be taken from him. He would fight for them. Like the pig that Tom ate, the back-pay is eaten, and cannot be disgorged.-Richmond Dispatch.
